FICTIONAL DEMONSTRATION — NOT A LIVE INSURANCE PROPOSAL

Jordan Ellis, CLU, ChFC · Example Financial Group
(555) 010-0100 · jordan.ellis@example.com

Your Life Insurance Proposal

ILLUSTRATION COMPANION

Prepared November 5, 2026 · Carrier illustration dated March 14, 2026 · Example Guaranteed UL

Illustrated initial death benefit	Planned premium outlay	Planned payment period	Coverage guarantee
$750,000	$9,840 a year	To age 121	To age 121
Paid at the insured's death	As illustrated; not a guaranteed premium	Every year the illustration shows (70 years)	Only if premiums and policy activity follow the illustration

Why this proposal is being considered

You told your advisor the main purpose of this coverage is protecting family or beneficiaries. The proposal from Example Mutual Life Insurance Company is built around a level death benefit that is kept in force by on-time premiums rather than by cash value growth.

How the proposed policy works

What the policy does

Example Guaranteed UL is universal life insurance. It pays the death benefit to your beneficiaries when the insured dies, with a Level death benefit option.

How it is funded

The illustration assumes a planned outlay of $9,840 each year through age 121. It is a planned amount, not a required premium.

GUARANTEED

What is guaranteed

The Guaranteed Coverage Benefit keeps the policy from lapsing through age 121, but only if each planned premium is paid on time and no loans or withdrawals are taken.

NOT GUARANTEED

What is illustrated, not guaranteed

Cash values in the illustration assume an interest rate of 3.50% and current charges continue. They are not guaranteed and can be higher or lower; cash value is a secondary feature of this design.

What to understand before proceeding

1. Payment conditions
   The guarantee to age 121 holds only if $9,840 is paid on time every year. A late or skipped payment, a loan or a withdrawal can shorten it, and restoring it may cost more.

2. Funding commitment
   The illustration assumes the planned outlay continues for 70 years, through age 121. Treat it as a long-term commitment, and ask your advisor what happens if funding changes.

Source: carrier illustration dated March 14, 2026, pp. 1, 2, 3, 4.

This companion summarizes selected information from the carrier's sales illustration dated March 14, 2026 for Example Guaranteed UL from Example Mutual Life Insurance Company. It supplements, and does not replace, the complete illustration, which contains the guaranteed and non-guaranteed values, their assumptions and the required disclosures. Non-guaranteed values are not guaranteed, and actual results may be more or less favorable. This is not a contract, a carrier document or a recommendation, and it does not address tax or legal questions.

Fictional people, carrier and product